

GOLDWATER ROUNDUP program at Triple R Ranch, southeast of Frankfort last Thursday drew a throng from all parts of the area. The people who attended saw a parade led by the son of the Republican presidential aspirant, Barry Goldwater, Jr., as well as quarter horse races, roping, a cutting exhibition, a fox hunt, and other activities. The picture above is one of several refreshment stands set up for the welfare of the visitors.

Mokena To Vote On Water Bonds July 11

The Mokena village board urges all voters to cast their ballots Saturday, July 11, on the proposal to improve and extend the community's water system.

The board looks on the issue as an important community-wide question on which a decision must be made and to that end would like a large turnout of voters.

The village hall on Front street will serve as the polling place and the poll will be open from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. All registered voters living within the corporate boundaries of the village are eligible to vote.

If the proposed waterworks improvements and extensions are approved by the voters, $85,000 of bonds will be issued to construct approximately 1.85 miles of new 6-inch and 8-inch water mains, install additional fire hydrants where needed, repair and improve the elevated water storage tank and well, and install a master meter and state-required water purifier.

The program recommended by the village board would include all urgently needed repairs to safeguard against a possible emergency shutdown, and would provide new service to many areas of the village not presently served, and give improved water service and better fire protection to existing water customers.

The bonds issued to finance the program would be retired over a 15-year period, so that in no one year, would taxes be greatly increased, it was said. The bonds would be sold at a nationally advertised public sale in order to obtain the lowest interest rate possible.

It was stated by a financial adviser retained by the village that taxes would be increased an average of 15 cents per $100 of equalized assessed valuation to pay off the bonds and interest. This would be equivalent to about $9 a year on a home assessed at $6,000, it was declared.

No increase in water and sewer charges would be required under the proposed program, it was pointed out.

8-Year-Old Saves His Brother, 3, From Fire

With burns on 40% of his body the condition of 3-year-old Paul Doak, one of seven children of Mr. and Mrs. John Doak, Haven ave., New Lenox, was reported "as good as could be expected."

The youngster, who was caught in a barn fire late last Friday afternoon, is in Silver Cross hospital.

He was carried out of the blazing structure by his 8-year-old brother, John, Jr., but not before the terrific heat engendered by the fiery mass of hay and straw had blistered his back and legs, and one side of his face. The youngster had been lying in the straw on his stomach and the front of his body escaped burns.

Paul and another brother, Robert, 5 years old, had been playing in the barn. They had been seen there a few minutes before the fire broke out by Maureen Schofield, 15 of New Lenox, who was taking care of the children while the Doaks were visiting friends at Chicago.

Maureen informed her mother, Mrs. Mary Schofield of the fire. The Schofields live about half a mile away and after calling the New Lenox fire department Mrs. Schofield drove to the scene, getting there before the firemen.

She and Maureen could account for all the children but Paul. John, Jr. ran to the barn and mounted the ladder leading up into the loft, about a 15-foot climb. He snatched up his brother and carried him down the ladder and out to safety. Mrs. Schofield put the burned boy in her car and drove to the hospital, sounding the horn continuously to clear a passage. The fire broke out shortly after 5 p.m. and traffic was heavy.

The 5-year-old boy, Robert, fled to safety when the fire broke out. John also escaped injury, in his rescue work.

The other children, besides the three already named, are Laurie, 9; Penny, 6; Eric, 2 and Kevin, five months old.

Mrs. Doak said that she had talked with the two boys that were in the barn and they told her that the fire seemed to come from above them. The loft was filled to the roof with baled hay and straw. It was believed that spontaneous combustion caused the fire.

The barn, a brick and frame structure, was a total loss. Also burned were three goats and the other contents. Fire Chief Otto Bormet, of the New Lenox department, who directed fight against the blaze, estimated the damage at some $15,000.

The flames spread across the road for about a city block and ignited a barn on the John Warren farm but the damage there was minor. Warren brought a bulldozer to the main fire to knock the bales apart so firemen could wet them down.

Bormet radioed to the DesPlaines Valley Mutual Aid when he arrived at the fire scene and Mokena, East Joliet and Homer sent apparatus. Lockport stoodby in event of another alarm in the area.

Water was a problem but departments kept up a reserve supply. A corncrib, within 20 feet of the blazing barn was saved. It contained farm machinery and 6,000 bushels of corn. Firemen also kept the flames from spreading to the house, 30 feet from the barn.

The house was rented by the Doaks from the Barr-Vavrus realty firm, and the land is leased to Willard Schultz. The scene of the fire is just south of the Lincoln-Way Shopping Center. The flames and smoke were visible for miles.

HOME AGAIN — Arthur Melin, who is associated with the Mokena Pharmacy is home again after a 21-day visit to his native Sweden. It was the first time Mr. Melin and his wife have seen their native land in 41 years. He has three brothers in Ostrocker county in the state of Sodermanland and Mrs. Melin has two sisters in Kalmar, in the state of Smoland. They reported having a wonderful time. loan associations which became involved in the same financial manipulations.

The Federal Deposit Insurance corporation filed suit in circuit court for $3,300,000 from Lloyd's of London and the Security Mutual Casualty company on the blanket bonds of three officials.

Named as co-defendants are S. Lawrence Kahn, vice-president of Chatham and director of its executive committee; Kenneth H. Katschke, chairman of the executive committee and former president of the Tinley Park Savings and Loan association Chris A. Huete, vice-president; and Arthur B. Sachs, attorney for the bank. They are charged with having "fraudulently extracted, diverted and misapplied" $4,790,000.

Katschke and Paul Pickle were sentenced Tuesday by U.S. District Judge Hubert L. Will on a criminal charge of misapplication involving Tinley Park and are out on appeal bonds.

The second action was a brief filed by Maryland Casualty Company denying liability on a similar bond to the Leyden Savings and Loan association, 10001 Grand, Franklin Park, involving $991,900 in fraudulent checks to Chatham Bank of which $175,000 has not been paid back.

An amended complaint filed by Leyden thru Attorneys Leslie J. Smith and Robert Irmiger May 27 names as "conspirators" who entered the institution at 10 p.m. on Wednesday, Jan. 23, a day it was closed, to "raid" its funds, the following defendants:

Victor H. Born, executive vice-president; Lawrence S. Kahn, and Mary J. Burleson, secretary of Three States Mortgage Co., which Kahn controls. Premier Mortgage Service, Inc., is also named a defendant, with Three States.

The suit charges they removed two "partly-printed" checks from the safe, drawn on an account Leyden kept in Chatham. Born allegedly handed them to Kahn who handed them to Burleson who inserted the date and affixed the signature with an electric check - writer of William Eunson, secretary of Leyden, who was home in bed with pneumonia.

One check, for $375,000, was made payable to Three States and the other, for $618,000, to Premier Investment Service, Inc.

Subsequently, on March 31, 1963, Leyden, recovered $616,900 of the money and on May 1, 1963, $377,031 including interest, but the latter check is alleged to have bounced and only $200,000 of it was made good on July 12, 1963. On Sept. 4, Sachs is said to have advised Leyden no more money would be forthcoming, and it first notified the bonding company.

The brief filed by Maryland Casualty cites the delay in notifying it of the loss as grounds for not paying the remaining $175,000. Its policy requires notice at the "earliest practicable moment" and proof of loss within six months. While the loss was known by Leyden officers in February, it received no notice until Sept. 11 and proof of loss Sept. 28, which is over seven months, the brief states.

"The complaint indicates clearly in the interim Leyden was negotiating for the return of the money. Under the circumstances it must be concluded the plaintiff (Leyden) made an election and abandoned its rights under the bond in the interest of collecting the uninsured loss independently.

"In the alternative, it must be concluded the plaintiff was satisfied to waive the wrongful nature of the original acts and accept them as establishing only a debtor relationship."

The brief asserts this was a case for applying the comment in a legal precedent that "a stranger experienced in such matters might have been much more likely to succeed in collecting than the friendly banker."

No date has been set for a hearing on the motion.

Uncle Sam--Big Spender

Two domestic issues have been highlights of the political, economic and social controversies of the present time.

One has been a highly organized campaign to empower the federal government to take sweeping measures which it considers to be in the interest of consumers. The proposed "truth in labeling" and "truth in packaging" bills -- descriptions which many observers consider misnomers -- are examples of this. Additionally, a special presidential assistant for consumer affairs is in office with direct access to the President and recently held a series of meetings around the country to find out what consumers are thinking and what they want.

The other is the President's dramatic "war on poverty", a poverty-stricken family being one with an income of less than $3,000 a year.

In these endeavors, it is obvious, the cost of food is a very important element. This is particularly true of the antipoverty drive. Yet the federal government itself is responsible for keeping the prices of numbers of basic food products high -- and the burden of that, of course, is most serious to the low-income family.

This is the substance of a revealing article in the June, 1964 issue of Nation's Business. To begin with, it describes the situation as it applies to several edible commodities. The price of bread is likely to increase this summer because of a rise in the price of wheat resulting from the new farm bill. There is a floor under coffee prices. Milk prices in the metropolitan centers are subject to government-imposed marketing regulations and to various forms of price-fixing.

And, as Nation's Business makes clear, "High federal price-fixing for foods differs from other rising components that make up the retail price of an item." By way of comparison, extensive processing of foods, with its heavy demands on labor, increases the selling price. But the foods so treated are far more convenient to use. The housewife is willing to pay an additional cost in order to save time and work. "But", to quote the magazine again, "government price-boosting of raw materials adds nothing in the form of new convenience or services to the food product the consumer buys."

Nation's Business also refutes the argument that government policies which raise food prices as necessary if we are to have a prosperous farm economy -- "To a rising degree, efficient farmers are finding that federal price support programs hamper their operations, damage their markets and hold down their income." And, it is pointed out, higher food prices that follow government action contribute to inflation.

The article goes into considerable detail in showing how the government is forcing the cost of foods up, using wheat as a particular example. In some cases, this has boomeranged -- the higher prices have cut consumption. This has happened in marked degree with coffee and butter.

It's quite a story -- and a story which few consumers know. Nation's Business makes it clear that food price increases for which manufacturers, processors and retailers have been given the blame, have been directly due to actions of the government. So, as it concludes, "The consumer -- rich and, especially, poor -- has to pay out a larger share of his income because of the government." (Industrial Review) airlines have placed orders to install some of the things, together with miniaturized television receivers on its jets this fall.

Just what they will accomplish by this is not quite clear to us. The person writing the article explains it this way -- "Installation of the system will make possible pre-recorded in-flight motion pictures which will end many problems of conventional movies which some air lines show on major flights."

If that clears the situation up for you we are glad. We understand that TV stations make use of tape recorders to such an extent that there is little, if any direct live telecasting outside of news shots, any more.

Thus are performers permitted to have a home life, and thus are preserved the re-runs.

WITH THE home video tape recorder, it was explained, people can sit in their living rooms and take pictures of the show that happens to be going on on TV at the time. Thus one can make his own collection of re-runs and stockpile tape pictures of the old beat up movies that comprise so much of TV fare. Why anyone should do this is not explained.

Television is a nutty business and there are a lot of nutty people in it but they are not as nutty as we who watch it. The people in the business are getting paid for it but the watchers do it for free, and get eye strain yet.

But the lads who deal in financial matters see a great future for video tape recorders in the home when the makers get the price down and all the makers appear to be working like mad on the project.

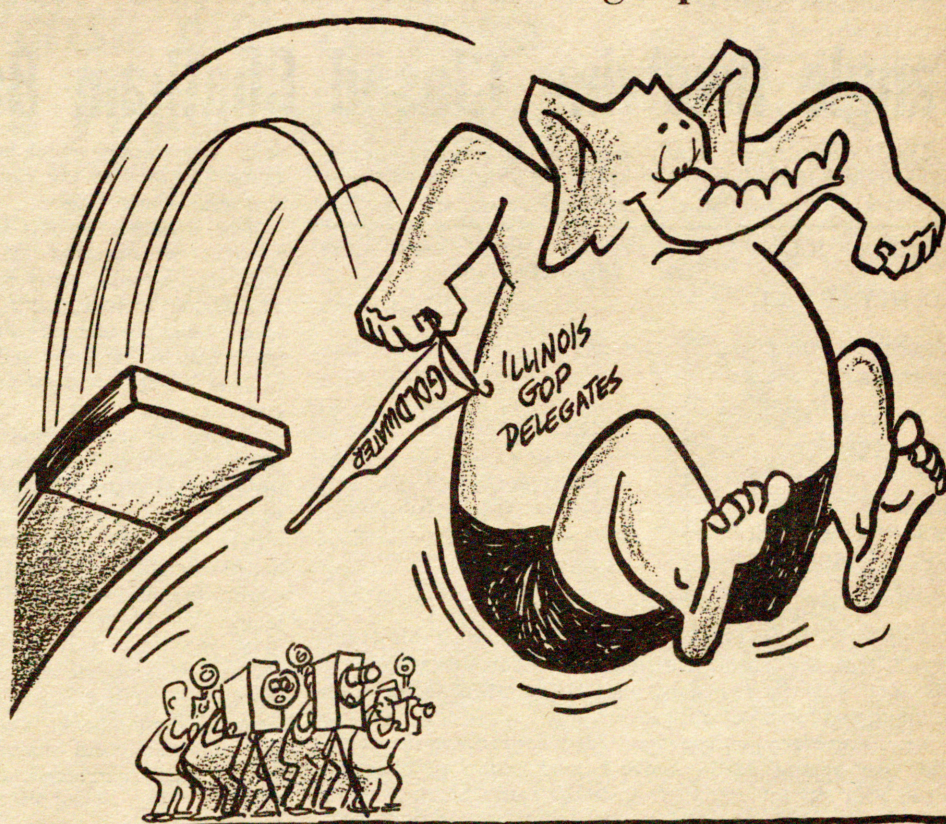

IT SEEMS that a person with one of these recorders plus cameras--inexpensive cameras, it says, that probably wouldn't cost much over $500 or $600 each--will be able to record motion pictures to be played back on the television screen.

It is not explained how this would be done. Nor does it say why. It seems to us that recording any film shown on TV for running off again on TV is wasting a lot of time and material. If one wants to see the same film over again all he has to do is wait a few minutes and tune in on another channel. And there you have it, or to put it another way, and there it has you.

Enthusiasts for home video tape recorders say they will revolutionize home movies.

Reading that was rather nerve wracking. We have been going along with the belief and hope that home movies were almost a thing of the past. It has been a long time since we have sat in anyone's living room for the express purpose of watching homemade movies of a vacation trip, a picnic, or

List ASC Committee Election Polling Places In Will Co.

Farmers today got a "last-minute" reminder about important elections which will be held soon in Will county. The elections are to choose ASC farmer-committeemen who will serve for the next year as local administrators of National farm-action programs.

According to Roy M. Smith, chairman, Will county agricultural stabilization and conservation committee, "These ASC committeemen have broad, important program responsibilities, which make it all the more urgent that representative farmers be elected to the job." He urged all qualified voters to be sure to attend the election meeting.

Each year, the chairman explained, such qualified voters -- farmers who are taking part or are eligible to take part in one or more of the farm programs which the committees administer -- elect a community committee from among their own number. The chairman, vice chairman, and regular member of this committee also serve respectively as delegate, alternate delegate, and second alternate delegate to a county convention, where the ASC county committee is elected.

Programs administered by the committeemen include the agricultural conservation program, acreage allotments, marketing quota, commodity loans, the voluntary wheat program, the sugar act program, the national wool program, and farm storage facility loans. Other duties are assigned to the committeemen by the Secretary of Agriculture as the need arises.

In Will county, eligible voters will cast ballots for community committeemen at community meetings held for that purpose. Places and dates for the community elections are:

some other form of clambake. If there is a double feature, so to speak, then you can figure on seeing some doting parent or grandparent giving a lot of footage to an infant prodigy pondering whether to creep or cry and ends up doing nothing except just sit there for the rest of the reel.

THE FRIENDS who formerly took movies now take stills, those colored slide that are enlarged and projected on a screen. One still sees the vacation trip, the picnic and the infant prodigy, but no one is jumping about or running, waving hands or flashing teeth.

How the video tape recorder will revolutionize home movies we don't know unless it has some kind of a gadget built in that will sound a gong, or klaxon, from time to time and thus keep the viewers awake.

That would be too bad, in a way, because home movies or projection of slides, have always given guests an opportunity to get in an after-dinner nap and thus be alert for the bridge that follows.

Want to be filthy rich?

Or do you want to be just rich?

Or are you satisfied to be just--well, there's no use pursuing that line. Let's get back to the second question. Do you want to be rich?

Now don't be hasty. You know the rich have troubles too, perhaps the chief of which is the fear that someone is going to take their money away from them--either thru taxes or outsmarting them in a business deal. But they have something going for their side that is very nice too--they have money.

ALRIGHT THEN, you want to be rich.

According to a piece in the financial pages of the papers last week the recipe was given on how to become wealthy, quite easily. All one has to do, according to this news item, is build a better low price video tape recorder for use in the home than the other fellow.

There seems to be quite a bit of room for one to swing an ax, or whatever one might use in cutting prices, because the video tape recorders in professional use today have a range of from $11,000 to $30,000. Whacking that down to $500 or less for home use should take a bit of doing but the boys in the trade believe it can be done. Anyway they are all giving it a try--including the Germans and the Japanese.

As a matter of fact the Japanese are said to be skipping the color TV field and concentrating their research on making a low price video tape recorder for the home.

"Having Ball"! Writes Margie Olson From Japan

Margie Olson, 17, of Mokena, a junior at Lincoln-Way high school now in Japan on a foreign student exchange program sponsored by the Lions of Lincoln-Way, is delighted with everything she has encountered.

"I'm having a ball!", she writes her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Olson.

Arriving in Tokyo last Thursday she went to the home of the Homma family to stay three days. She is to spend the summer with the Maeda family in Hitoyoshi. Mr. Maeda is principal of a school there. He and his 17-year-old daughter Michiko, flew 700 miles to be at Tokyo when Margie arrived but they had to return because of examinations and Margie is to follow tomorrow.

Meanwhile she has been following a schedule made by the Lions club there.

But let Margie tell it: "Friday. Mrs. Homma, her eldest daughter, Kao (20), Kao's best friend, Chibiko, and I went sightseeing in the morning. In the afternoon Michiko, Mr. Maeda, Mrs. Homma and I went to a Tempura restaurant. Tempura is fried fish and I ate it all with chopsticks, even the rice. It was delicious.

"Saturday. Mido (17) and Lei (15) stayed home from school. We played the piano and sang. In the afternoon we went on a bus tour of Tokyo. That night we had a party. There were six girls and five boys. Three of the boys go to college, two to high school. I learned the Japanese twist. It's different—so are the kids, as well as the food.

"Sunday. I went to St. Anselm's church with Mido, Lei and Kao, then to the airport to leave for Kyushu with Mr. Maeda and Michiko. I hate to leave Tokyo. In three days the Hommas became like a second family to me. I learned a lot. . . .

"When we arrived we went to the home of Dr. O'Hara. He took the Maedas and me to a hotel and we had a big dinner for the Lions.

"There is a little elderly Japanese lady here who always wears a kimono. To look at her you'd never believe it, but she studied in Georgia and Evanston and TOURS TOKYO with Japanese friends. Margie Olson is in the center and next to her is Mr. Maeda and Michiko Maeda to the right of her father. now teaches child psychology. She's a sweet lady and speaks perfect English.

"Monday. Today I got up and took a Western bath and had delicious eggs for breakfast. Dr. O'Hara took us to the sea for a boat ride. The sea is out of a harbor that looks like a river. There are factories and ships all around.

"After that Michiko and Mr. Maeda left for Hitoyoshi and I am to stay in Tobata until July 10. Michiko has to study for finals. School does not get out until the 20th, so I'll visit there. Their house is attached to the school because Mr. Maeda is the principal.

"The elevator I rode in today got stuck. There I was with four people who chattered on in a language I didn't understand. Finally the door opened and we had to step down about a foot and then take the stairs.

"I'm staying at the hotel now. I've been here since 5 p.m. The manager speaks English so we played tic-tac-toe. I had delicious cold roast beef for supper. I was in the lobby watching two men play chess when four boys came to visit me. They are students at an institute of technology. We just started talking when my psychology teacher, her daughter and two grandchildren came bearing gifts of Japanese sparklers. Then a girl (23) came. Tomorrow I'm to visit her school. It is Catholic but she is not. Tomorrow I'm invited for supper at a home where two American boys are also invited. They are on a tour with a choir from Seattle.

"The Lions have a schedule for me. They keep telling me it's a tough one but I do not know because it's in Japanese. I think I'm to visit Kyoto and Hiroshima but it's very hard to understand what they say. Tomorrow I will ask my teacher what is going on. I listen politely to the long explanations and then wait and see.

"The inside of the houses is beautiful and everywhere inside one must remove their shoes.

"I am in a room in which Emperor Hirohito slept when he was in town. It has a bedroom with twin beds, a den with a fireplace, two sets of doors leading to a balcony and a bathroom with Western facilities. . . .

"I saw a real bride today. I got pictures of her. She was just beautiful. She even had powder on her hands. I had my picture taken for the newspaper. I was with Michiko, a maid and a bride.

"I went to two schools, the Catholic one where I spoke to three nuns from Canada, and a college-high school-grade school where I spoke to a class of H.S. juniors. Tomorrow I have to go to a college to speak to an English speaking society.

"I am going to be moved to the home of a Lions club member tomorrow. I'm to hear the Seattle choir at 2, speak to the college society at 3 and the Lions are picking me up at 4. I'm glad they know what they are doing but I don't. I'm going to see Nagasaki for sure.

"Tonight they gave me a beautiful two-strand necklace of blue pearls. I have been given two habuskas, two change purses, two pins, a wallet, a purse just right for my passport, three bamboo fans, a rosary, a set of Kokeishi dolls, a tiny tea set, a small necklace, a gold pencil. . . two paper fans and a doll who smokes.

"I wish I had brought 100 U.S. postcards with me and a ton of candy."

Robbed Of $35

Frankfort police encountered a switch. A hitchhiker who identified himself as William Collins, 413 E. Benton st., Joliet, reported to Officer Walter Johnson that he had been robbed by a motorist on U.S. 30.

Collins told the officer that he was walking along the highway, enroute Ft. Wayne to visit a son, when a 1955 or 57 Ford halted and the driver, described as a man in his late 30's, with a crew cut and mustache, leveled a pistol at him and took his money. Collins said he was robbed of $35.

To be eligible to join, your father, grandfather or great-grandfather must have been a Confederate soldier in the Civil War -- and you've got to be able to prove it.

Squirrels Pose Problem For Frankfort Council

Most municipal councils have many weighty problems to contend with these days - not including their caloric intake. The water supply - in many areas the lack of it - poses quite a question, as do sewers, housing, preservation of the peace, and the endless pursuit of getting enough money in the till to meet expenses.

These are problems alright but when one gets right down to it they are rather simple compared to the one tossed into the laps of Frankfort's mayor, George Sangmeister, and members of the village board last week-end. A resident telephoned the mayor.

"What," the caller demanded, "are you going to do about those squirrels?" Now it is a generally accepted fact that there are many kinds of squirrels in this world so it was natural for the mayor to respond with a question that was quite proper under the circumstances.

"What squirrels?" "The squirrels that got my apples," was the reply, "and will do the same with my peaches."

The mayor was somewhat relieved to know that this was the bushy tailed type of squirrel but it still presented a problem. There is no ordinance on Frankfort's books, nor the books of any other city or village in the country as far as is known, which makes it a felony or even a misdemeanor for a squirrel to raid any fruit or nut tree.

The mayor told his caller frankly that he did not have an immediate answer but perhaps some of the village board might have an idea. When would the board meet, the caller wanted to know. Informed that the meeting night was July 6, the caller expressed some dissatisfaction.

"The only thing I can tell you," the mayor said, "that if you have a good gun and are a good shot that you take proper measures to protect your property."

At the board meeting Monday night the trustees had little to offer on the subject. Trustee Clyde Reils said that one of the residents appeared to be doing a good job in keeping the birds away from his berry bushes by the use of aluminum foil pans and string. The pans toss about, spin and make noises by striking one another when the breeze stirs.

Whether this would work with squirrels or whether they would sever the strings and use the foil plates to eat the fruit from is not known because it has not been tried. Someone else was wondering if the irate fruit owner shot the squirrel what would the game warden do - jug the shooter for bagging a squirrel out of season?

Trustee Robert Dean is now wondering whether some of the sounds he heard on the Fourth of July were firecrackers or the fruit owner at war with the squirrels.

Collector To Close Office Friday Night

The office of the Frankfort village collector will not be open tomorrow night (July 10) between the usual hours of 6 and 8 o'clock. The office will be open during the regular day hours tomorrow, however.

Village Clerk Walter Pfaff, who also serves as village collector, said the office will be closed every day next week, Monday thru Friday, July 13-17.

Frankfort Adopts Its Appropriation Measure

The Frankfort village board adopted its appropriation ordinance at its regular meeting Monday night. The measure provides for expenditures totaling $113,453.

It was pointed out that the village does not expect to spend that much money in the coming fiscal year. In fact, officials stated, the village does not expect to have that much money in its treasury but appropriations ordinances always call for more expenditures than anticipated. Money cannot be spent, even if available, unless it is appropriated for certain items. So in drawing up appropriation ordinances taxing bodies prepare for all contingencies.

In this year's measure $14,000 is earmarked for water and sewer bonds and interest and that money will be spent. The sum of $4,000 also is set up as a bond reserve which will be taken out of the water and sewer revenues.

The ordinance is published in detail on another page in this newspaper but some of the major items are given here. Street lighting is set down at $6,500 and garbage collection at $5,000. Expenditures itemized for the street department come to $18,400 and for the police department, $9,775.

Frankfort, like other communities, is running out of tax money but has no definite word as to when it may realize something from taxes. If the factor assigned by the state revenue department for Will county is contested there is no telling when taxes will be collected. If the factor is accepted it is possible that some money will be available by late August, according to information obtained by Village Attorney Albert H. Krusemark.

If Frankfort is not able to get any tax money until late September or October the village board will probably have to sell tax anticipation warrants. The board hopes to have more information on the subject at its next meeting, two weeks from last Monday.

At the meeting Monday an agreement was made with Wunder Construction Co., of Plainfield, to give a second coat of asphalt and chips on Pacific street between Maple and Oak, the intersection at Nebraska and Linden, Elwood st., a street off U.S. 30 at 95th, is to get a dust penetration treatment only. The entire cost is $774.73. Trustee Milton Subbert explained that the state will not pay for a second coat out of motor fuel tax money on maintenance jobs.

Burglars Get $1300 At Frankfort

Burglars broke into the office of Standard Industrial Compound Co., on Center rd. Frankfort early last Friday morning (July 3) and fled with approximately $1,300 in cash and three pieces of office equipment, a typewriter, an adding machine and a strip printer.

It was estimated that the burglary took place between 1 and 2 a.m.

The money was in a petty cash box. Ordinarily little cash is kept on the premises, it was explained, but the money on hand then was there as an accommodation for employees who might have checks to cash before the holiday. Frankfort police are investigating.

St. Peter's Womens Group Visit Guild At Arthur

MRS. KATHARINE HEISNER
Telephone: 469-5187

A group of thirty members and friends of St. Peter's Womens Fellowship chartered a bus last Thursday morning and went to the Zion United Church of Christ at Arthur, Ill.

They met the president of their Women's Guild, who welcomed the group most heartily. Mrs. Burton Breidert, president of the St. Peter group, responded, thanking them for the invitation to visit and hoping they would do likewise in the near future.

In the absence of their pastor, one of the lay leaders and his wife (both dressed in the Amish fashion) spoke to the group. After a question and answer session, Rev. LaVern Smith, pastor of St. Peter's, held an installation service for the new officers of his church. Those installed were: Mrs. Connard Haakinson, president; Mrs. Norman Lorenzen, vice-president; Mrs. Edmund Ebert, secretary; Mrs. Donald Schroeder, treasurer and Mrs. Ted Massey, missionary chairman.

After dinner the group toured the Rochome estate (a house furnished in the Amish style and fashion); saw a film; then to a private Amish farm where the farmer showed them the art of making buggies used by the Amish. The group also visited a carpet shop, and when they returned home they dined at the Redwood Inn in Rantoul.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hostert accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wise and family of Naperville and spent the weekend holiday with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bixler and family at Three Rivers, Mich.

Miss Dora Schellhase is visiting with her friend, Mrs. Elizabeth Bayer in Chicago for about two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mark were supper guests of Miss Louise Krafft in Chicago last Sunday evening.

It's Housing Units Now, Not Just Buildings

The U.S. department of commerce is now keeping cases on building in the suburbs but is using a new system. When municipalities issue a building permit it represents a building, residential, commercial or industrial, but the government bureau talks in "housing units".

Harvey led the south suburbs with 579 housing units while Orland Park came up with 99, Tinley Park with 44, Palos Heights 58, and Palos Park 9. Worth had 212 units.

A housing unit it was explained, consists of a room or group of rooms intended for occupancy as separate living quarter, by a family or an individual, and containing cooking facilities. Hotels are excluded.

chell and daughters returned home last Thursday after spending a three week vacation in Florida and North Carolina. They visited with Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Haas and daughters in Orlando and with a cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Williams and family in Pompano. After sightseeing along the waterfront in Miami they motored to Chiquapin, North Carolina, visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Southerland.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Reils and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Koenig and their families enjoyed a week's vacation at the Resort in Minong, Wis., returning home last Saturday.

John Topp, his son Wilbur and Edward Heisner motored to Emmetsburg, Iowa last Friday to visit with the former's sister, Mrs. Charles Jurrles. From there they went to the Black Hills in South Dakota. They will return home this week.

Glenn Patterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Patterson, attained the Dean's List during the spring quarter at Iowa State university.

Mrs. Howard Osmus underwent surgery at Silver Cross hospital last Tuesday.

George Schroeder had the misfortune of falling in his home Sunday, cracking his pelvis bone.

Mrs. Henry Mossell and Mrs. Robert Dean entertained about 35 women at a baby shower and coffee for Mrs. James Parker. The shower was held last Friday morning at the Mossell home.

A group of senior MYF members of the Frankfort Methodist church attended the senior-Hi at Camp Reynoldswood, Lake Geneva, Wis. Those attending were: Bonnie Bickel, Karen Reils, Jeannie Heisner, Joe VanRheeden and Dave Smith. Rev. Parker is on the staff at the camp. Mrs. Parker and family also attended the camp.

Counselors were: Mrs. George Peterson, Mrs. Richard Klazer and Mrs. Charles Mark Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boege and family of Chicago have moved into the home at 510 Hackberry road, Connecticut Hills.

Mr. and Mrs. David Brumm moved in the George Helchel home at 233 Walnut st. They are from St. Joseph, Mo. Brumm is assistant manager at the Swift Farm on Laraway road.

Shortstop, Converted To Wins Start Hurler,

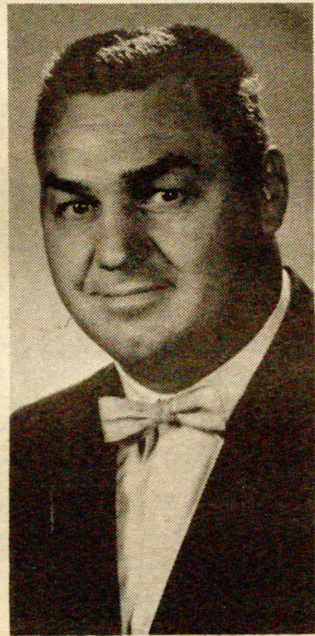

Thirteen year old Pat McCabe, who has been playing shortstop for the Frankfort Red and White Babe Ruth team made his pitching debut at the Village park last Thursday night with an 8 to 1 triumph over Monee. Pat pitched the first five innings, and gave up only two hits and one run. He appeared to tire at the end of the 5th and Artie Schilling pitched the last two innings of the game and allowed one hit and no runs.

The game was tied 0-0 in the top of the fourth when a Monee batsman hit a line drive down the 3rd base line that went for a home run. Frankfort responded in the bottom of the fourth when Jim Vaughn walked and stole 2nd and 3rd base. Frank Fleck singled and attempted to steal 2nd. The throw from Monee catcher to 2nd base was long and Fleck was able to score.

Frankfort's big inning was the fifth. With one out, Wayne Francis walked, Mike McCabe singled, Tom Stoner singled, driving in Francis, Jim Vaughn walked, and Rickie Kohlbacher walked, forcing in McCabe. With bases loaded, Frank Fleck tripled for his second hit of the day. Fleck then scored on a sacrifice fly by Bob Blackwell. The game ended with Frankfort on top with eight runs and eight hits against Monee's one run and three hits.

The Frankfort Babe Ruth team now has a record of four wins and two losses. They will play their next home game against the Peotone Bennetts at the Village Park at 6:15 p.m. tonight, (July 9).

LEONARD RITTO, former Joliet Catholic high school and University of Detroit football star, has joined the coaching staff of the Joliet Explorers professional football club. He will tutor backfield talent under the direction of Head Coach Joseph Petrucci.

Katsche, Pickle Out On Bonds

(CNS) Appeal bonds of $5,000 each were posted in U.S. District court by Kenneth H. Katschke, 42, former president of the Tinley Park Savings and Loan association and board chairman of the Chatham Bank of Chicago, both now defunct, and Paul Pickle, 41, who were sentenced to three years each in federal prison last week for misapplying funds of the Tinley Park institution to buy control of the Chatham bank.

U.S. District Judge Hubert L. Will ordered the men go to jail unless they posted the bonds as he sentenced them following a bench trial last month. Attorney Burton Young said the appeal will center around his contention there was no crime since the $350,000 was returned without loss to anyone.

DISTINGUISHED DEALER — Ralph Show, owner of Cooper-Show Ford, Frankfort accepts the coveted Ford dealer Distinguished Achievement Award from Henry Busch (right) of Ford Motor Co. Tillie Wischhover, office manager, watched the presentation this week. The award is given for progressive management, modern sales, sound merchandising, and superior customer service.

panies," he said.

"From May 1 to Oct. 31, 1961, Central States sold Tinley Park 238 mortgage loans totaling $5,500,000 or 62 pct. of all loans made in the period. The FDIC also found a pattern of appraisals made by people employed in Pickle's office, no inspections, and disbursements made prior to completion.

"Katschke as an officer and director of Pickle's Gold Star Homes received $25,000 in salary from Gold Star in 1961.

"In February, 1962, at the insistence of the Federal Home Loan Bank board, $150,000 was paid back to Tinley Park from a Gold Star check on the Chatham Bank where Katschke had taken over as chairman of the board.

"In June, 1961, an $150,000 loan was made on a Chilli-cothe, Ill., marina owned by Pickle and another man, but a prior mortgage on the same property by Service Savings and Loan, of Summit, was not released until November, 1961, so there was no security for the June mortgage. The appraisal on this property in the files of Service show a value of $148,000, but the appraisal at Tinley Park, by the same appraiser, shows $248,000. The name of the appraiser, William Mayer, was forged to the Tinley Park appraisal.

"The Chatham bank made the following loans to Pickle enterprises after Katschke took over: February, 1962, Gold Star Homes, $225,000; Central States, $100,000; Gold Star, $60,000; May, 1964, $85,000 to Griffith Construction Co.; August, 1962, $126,000 to Gold Star.

"Together Katschke and Pickle received 27 loans from Hillside Savings and Loan totaling $700,000.

"From Beverly Savings and Loan, Katschke received 35 loans for $975,000.

"To Service (Savings and Loan), which was closed only last week, Central States from March 29, 1961, to Nov. 8, 1961, sold 77 loans totaling $2 million, and Katschke made nine loans for $366,000.

"Early in this case counsel for Mr. Katschke said he was a millionaire and wouldn't stoop to stealing. I submit on the basis of these facts much of the money received by Mr. Katschke was by illegal means, as was

"I believe society is the victim by the conduct of these men."

Attorney Young called "outrageous" the detailing of transactions on which there had been no evidence, but Judge Will said it was proper for the purpose of sentencing only.

Young said Katschke was a fighter pilot in the war, father of four children, and a family man.

"Until he became active in latter years in the financial field in which he had no training, he was a builder of homes, and his homes were well built and gave full value to the buyer. This man is not one of guile or machinations," declared Katschke's attorney.

On behalf of Pickle, Attorney Edmund Burke quoted from Dostoevsky's "Crime and Punishment" that "the act is itself sufficient punishment," and said he "feels in all honesty Mr. Pickle has suffered enough."

Hints For Homeowners

SMOOTH BROMEGRASS. If one of the southern strains is used, brome grass is one of the better waterway grasses to use in areas where soil and moisture are suitable. Where fertility is adequate, it establishes itself rather quickly, forms a heavy root system and a dense top growth, and gives good protection. Bluegrass will gradually take over the stand. Many brome grass waterways were left in grass after the entire field had grown alfalfa-brome and the rest of the field had been plowed for corn.

REED CANARY GRASS. This is the only grass adapted to Illinois conditions that will give good results in very wet, seepy waterways because it will grow and thrive when standing in water. It will, however, also do well under dry conditions, and it is adapted to a wide range of soils. Because it forms the heaviest root system of any of the grasses included here, it is suitable for channels where the velocity of runoff water is high. Unless kept clipped, it will spread through the lower

FIXING ROADS in Frankfort township. Highway Commissioner Walter Yunker hired Trygg Paving Co. of Joliet to shape up some of the hard surfaced roads in the township. Every month

more and more people are moving up to total electric living

The reason? Simple. Electricity is so easy to live with.

With flameless electric heat, for example, each room can have its own thermostat. You can enjoy 80° in the bath, 72° in the living room and 65° in the bedroom. There's no burning fuel, nothing to make dirt . . . walls and furniture stay clean far longer. Come summer, electric air conditioning wrings heat and humidity from the air along with most of the annoying pollens.

Electric cooking takes the flame out of the kitchen. People stay cooler, and pans, walls and curtains stay cleaner. And, because electric heat is controlled heat, it takes the guesswork out of cooking. Foods cooked in an electric oven have a done-to-a-turn flavor that only radiant heat and insulation on all six sides can provide.

Electrically dried clothes come out sweet and fresh because there's no burning fuel to cause an odor. With no pilot light, power ignition or extra cost for tumbler drive, the average family's drying bill comes to only $1.25 a month.* And an electric dryer costs $20 to $40 less to buy.

See how easy it can be to move up to total electric living at your house. Call us for details, today.

You stay cool, calm and collected with flameless electricity. Precise, automatically controlled cooking, washing and drying—are at your fingertips.

The Junior Girl Scout Troop Number 103 held their overnight hike over Tuesday night, June 30. The campout was held on the grounds of the Neumayer property along 191st street.

The troop will conclude their summer meetings on July 7. The final program of the summer will be the day camp at Van Horne Woods from July 20 through 24th.

The two leaders Mrs. Mary Albor and Mrs. Alice Kilgore recently completed their five week's course in Red Cross First Aid necessary in order that the girl scout troops would be able to hold their summer campouts and hikes.

There will be a leaders meeting during August to ascertain the division of the troops and leaders for the coming scout year. There are to be troops organized in Tinley Gardens. This will alleviate some of the crowding in the troops.

The Cadettes Girl Scout troop of Arbury Hills have been busily making their troop banner. It was nipped and tuck whether or not it would be finished in time for their marching in the July 4 parade in Mokena. They were also responsible for running the Girl Scout booth at the park that day from 7:30 to 8 p.m.

The troop held a bike hike on June 9 to Mokena Community Park. The troop held an investiture ceremony there and celebrated with a big cake.

There will be a four-day campout at Hawthorne Ridge in Crete, Aug. 23-26. The girls also invited the girls of Cadette Scout Troop Number 76 from Mokena to accompany them. The troops will each be responsible for planning half of the activities and half of the menus.

The Arbury Achievers, the 4-H Club group, held their ninth meeting on June 12 at 1:00 p.m. at the school with eight members and one guest present.

The meeting was opened by the president Sue Smith, and Nancy Landfried led the group in the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag and the 4-H Pledge. Roll call was on "Progress on Your Projects". The minutes were read by Nancy Landfried. Day camp was discussed and Stephanie May and Nancy Landfried were the only two desiring to attend.

The demonstrations at the meeting were on: Setting a Table by Becky Kronich; How to Use Bandages by Nancy Landfried; How Clean Do I Brush My Teeth by Stephanie May.

Laura Kronich gave a talk on recreation and illustrated how ice breakers were played. Frannie Mangan taught the group how to play charades.

Refreshments were served, after judging Patty Kronich's cookies, by Patty Kronich and Sue Smith.

The Arbury Hills Boys Baseball League is well into its schedule of games with Frankfort and Mokena. The farm team won its game against Mokena on Friday, June 26, 18 to 2.

Another game was played at the Arbury Hills playing field on Tuesday, June 30, but the eight o'clock deadline necessitated another meeting of the two teams to determine a winner.

On Wednesday evening, July 1, the two older boys teams competed against two Frankfort teams. The Blue Rockets played one Frankfort team here in Arbury Hills and squeaked by the visitors 9 to 8.

The Red Bombers team played the other Frankfort team at Frankfort. This game ended in a 16-16 tie which will be played off.

First event planned will be Sunday, July 12, from 7:30 to 11 p.m. This will be a record hop held in the Township High gym. Ron Riley will be here with "The Thunderbirds", a six piece dance combo. There will be dancing contests and prizes. Donations are $1 each and all area teenagers are invited.

MRS. JOSEPH A. LAVELY

St. Patrick Church Scene Of Smith - Lavelly Nuptials

Church bells pealed at 1 o'clock Saturday, June 6 for the marriage of Miss Doris Smith to Joseph A. Lavelly.

Rev. Cecil Koop performed the ceremony at a nuptial high Mass in St. Patrick church, Joliet, which united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Smith, Francis road, New Lenox and the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Lavelly, 1100 W. Jefferson, Joliet.

Guest soloist George O'Brian was accompanied at the organ by William Todorovich.

Escorted by her father to an altar enhanced by bouquets of white gladioli and carnations, the bride wore a floor length empire gown of white silk crepe designed by Phyllis Bianchi of Boston. A beaded motif of pearls and crystals covered the bodice and the long tapered sleeves. A long flowing court train dramatized the slim skirt. She carried a white orchid with stephanotis. Her only jewelry, pearl earrings, a gift of the groom.

Miss Sandra Younghusband, maid of honor, chose Chinese jade chiffon for her floor length sheath fashioned with a bateau neckline, cap sleeves and a flowing back panel. Her small blusher veil was held in place by a flowered hat. She carried one pink tropical rose. She wore a pair of single pearl earrings, a gift of the bride. Dressed identically with Miss Younghusband were the bridesmaids, Miss Ruth Baskerville and Miss Gale Grachan.

Jerry Lavelly attended as best man and ushers were Ed Swearingen and Dan Demus.

A reception was held for 300 guests at the Autumn Acres, Motel Rossi. For her daughter's marriage, Mrs. Smith wore a pink linen dress with beaded bodice and white accessories and completed her outfit with a white cymbidium. Sass - Herzmann Vows Said At Double Ring Ceremony

On June 13 at an 8 o'clock candlelight service in the Marley Baptist Community church, the Rev. Ian Brown united in marriage, with a double ring ceremony, Miss Cheryl Elaine Sass, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loren L. Sass, Route 1, Lockport, and LaVerne C. Herzmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Herzmann, Arlington, Iowa.

The altar was decorated with arrangements of white gladioli and mums. Traditional wedding selections were played by Miss Betty Anderson, organist. The candles were lit by Miss Carole Pauly of Lockport. Daniel Sass, uncle of the bride, rendered two solos, "Because" and "O Promise Me".

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, wore a chantilly lace gown, flowered and delicate and prettily rendered in classic lines. Scallop gave a finished elegance to the neckline and hem. The toe-touching skirt was a voluminous sweep of threetiars with four hand made roses accentuating the top tier. Her silk illusion veil fell to the elbow from a crown of pearl, crystal and petals of Chantilly lace. Her only jewelry was an intique gold band bracelet, which belonged to her great-grandmother Mrs. George B. Peterson. She carried a cascade of white roses and stephanotis.

Attendants were Miss Bonnie Sproat as maid of honor; Mrs. James Meader of Lockport, as bridesmaid; and Miss Verda Jo Sass, sister of the bride, as junior bridesmaid. They were dressed identically in gowns of paled yellow dacron organza over matching linings. Gentle scoop necklines and fitted bodices showed off the elbow sleeves. The non-controlled dome skirts were each fashioned in the back with a cabbage rose and steamer. Their bow headpieces were in a matching hue, centered by cabbage roses with a touch of pearl and a bit of veiling. Each attendant carried a crescent of yellow roses. Nick Baumgartner of Elgin, Ia., acted as best man. Ushers duties were performed by Wayne Peterson of Grand Forks, North Dakota; Larry Sass of Plainfield, New Jersey; and Robert Peterson of Melrose Park, Illinois.

Soybean bacterial blight is more common in north-central and central Illinois than elsewhere. If your soybeans are looking "sick" these days, don't be too alarmed. You may get some comfort from knowing that you're not the only farmer with soybean problems. Outbreaks of bacterial blight have been reported from this area.

Bacterial blight occurs commonly where "slashing" rains fall during the latter half of June. Such wind-driven rains penetrate the leaf surface and take the disease organism in with it. Bacterial blight is favored by cool, rainy weather in June and early July, but recedes rapidly in hot, dry weather. It first appears on the leaves as small, angular, yellow spots with water-soaked centers. Later, as the leaf tissue dies, the center of the spot turns brown to black. It is usually surrounded by a water-soaked margin bordered by a yellowish-green halo. The angular spots may run together and produce large dead areas. Diseased tissue usually tears and drops out, giving the infected leaves a ragged appearance. Frequently leaves appear badly shredded after windy weather and beating rains. Many of the badly affected leaves have already dropped.

Good cultural practices offer the only control for bacterial blight. Cultivating when the foliage is wet helps to distribute the blight bacteria. Rotating soybeans with other crops, completely covering the stubble and other plant residue by clean fall-plowing and planting high-quality, disease-free seed from a reputable seed dealer offer the best chances of licking bacterial blight.

For top quality vegetables from your garden, consider the way you'll use them and harvest them accordingly. If you're using them fresh or for freezing, less mature vegetables often make superior products. If you plan to can or cold-pack, more mature vegetables enhance quality if they will withstand the additional cooking. For maximum maturity and sweetness, pick muskmelons at "full slip". At this stage melons separate easily from the vine, leaving an indentation on the stem end.

During hot weather, plan to harvest sweet corn about 15 days after it silks. As cool weather approaches, allow 20 to 24 days after silking. Harvest sweet corn just before you use it or you'll reduce the sugar content.

You'll get more tender, flavorful beans over a longer period of you pick them on the "small side" when you're using them fresh. If you're planning to can them, wait until they reach full maturity, but pick them before the "string" develops in the pod.

For the best quality slicing cucumbers, harvest them before they show any yellowing but after they have reached full size. One added word of caution: Remove any over-mature cucumbers from the plant. Otherwise, they may kill the entire vine.

You can increase your family's summer fun right at home by including a patio as part of your landscape. Be sure to build it large enough to accommodate your family, friends and patio furniture. Keep the patio in scale with the house and lot. Locate the patio where you'll have easy access to the house. You won't use one that's "hard to get to". If you plan to use it for outdoor cooking, be sure you locate it close to the kitchen.

Patios and other landscape structures are discussed in detail in the book "Landscaping Your Home" written by University of Illinois landscape architect W. R. Nelson, Jr. You can obtain a copy for two dollars, tax included, from the Agricultural Information Office, 112 Mumford Hall, University of Illinois, Urbana Illinois.

The Working Classes

J. A. WARD

Here's some good news for those women currently working or planning to enter the business field soon. OVER 7,000,000 WOMEN currently doing the same work as men but getting paid less for it SHOULD GET A RAISE THIS MONTH ... A NEW FEDERAL LAW REQUIRES THAT WHEN THE WORK'S THE SAME, THE PAY CHECK MUST BE THE SAME FOR BOTH MEN AND WOMEN.

To mothers working or going back to work if you have children and no built-in baby sitter ... A NEW LAW LIBERALIZES YOUR CHILD CARE DEDUCTION ON YOUR INCOME TAX REPORT. Under the old law, a working widow or divorcee could deduct no more than $600.00 for child care (a portion of salary paid to maids or baby sitters or nurses, etc) and the child had to be under 12 or handicapped to claim the deduction. The old law was even tougher for the working wife ... she had to reduce the $600.00 deduction dollar for dollar if she and her husband had a combined income of over $4500.00. Thus she could claim no deduction if their incomes exceeded $5100.00.

Under the new law if a working mother leaves two or more children at home she can deduct up to $900.00 a year and the age limit on the children has been raised to 13. The $600.00 deduction still applies however, on one child. Now, a working wife doesn't start reducing her deduction until she and her husband make $600.00 a year together.

If you claim a parent over 65 as an exemption, pay their drug and doctor bills in place of an equivalent amount of direct contribution. The medical bills you pay will count toward your parents' support in claiming them as an exemption ... and you also get the medical deduction.

During June 200,000 brides walked down the aisle (one-eighth the year's total). For thousands of these new brides the end of the honeymoon means a return to work. The reasons are economic--to ease family budgets. At the present rate, about one-half of these new brides will take on outside work during their married life.

Seeks Hall Site Thru Court

(CNS) - The village of Hickory Hills has filed suit in circuit court to condemn land to expand its village hall.

Village Attorney Vincent
R. Ewald, who filed the suit, intends to file a motion in a mandamus suit against the village, to stop the land owners of the disputed property from erecting a home on the site.

The fight between the village and the property owners, First National Bank of Evergreen Park, trust
#684 and Michael Wojcik, listed as beneficiary of the trust, has been going on since March.

The village, on March 26, passed an ordinance authorizing condemnation proceedings, intending to use the site for a meeting hall and a garage.

On May 12, the trust filed for a building permit, which was refused by the village clerk. The next day the trust filed a demand for a building permit, which was refused once more.

Then on June 8, Ewald made an offer to the trust to buy the land "at an equitable rate", which was turned down. The next day the trust filed a mandamus suit in circuit court asking that the village be forced to issue a building permit.

Ewald's motion is to delay the mandamus suit until the fall pending decision on the condemnation proceedings.
Under the law, if the court finds for the village, a jury will set the amount of money the village must pay for the land.
